

Weekly Cotton Letter by Savannah
Cotton Factorage Company.

In our letter of September 20th we stated that we saw nothing to alarm owners of cotton, and suggested that banks and cotton factors be called upon to help farmers and others market their cotton slowly, or hold it for higher prices. Since this letter was written cotton has advanced 1 1/2c per pound, and we are glad to say there is still no pressure to force sales. On the other hand the trade demand is improving and offerings of cotton and cotton goods are light. Speculators are afraid to sell short, and investors get abroad on every decline.

Many sections report that picking and ginning are about over, and low condition estimates are coming out daily, most of them predicting a yield of from 6,000,000 to 6,500,000 bales. Let's keep the following facts before us: The 1920 carry over is now scarcely more than 6,000,000 bales, and if the 1921 crop proves to be 6,250,000 and American consumption and exports total 10,500,000, this will leave practically no carry over next spring if every bale of the present crop is marketed. If history repeats itself, at least 2,000,000 to 3,000,000 bales will be held into next season, and there may be a lively scramble for cotton during the next few months.

DE WET DROUT.

Er renter's sho de bigges fool
Ah mean a nigger wid a mule,
Fer hit's too wet or hit's too dry
Till it seems lak taint no use ter try.
De rain crow sho do pester me
He set up on de hicky tree,
All time crying water, water
En hit done rain more'n had oughter.
Ah watch de clouds en hope en hope
En feed myself all kinder dope,
En den dat birds he starts er calling
En den de rain begins er falling.
Ah gits my gun en starts ter hunt
En thinks ah do de murder stunt,
But den he fly to a furdur lim
En go right on wid de dratted hymn,
"Rain, rain, er lil more main"
Right den hit stahts te rpour er gain,
Ah see dat all but de grass is dead
Eh ah puts de mule back in de shed.

KIRBY'S APPEAL IS

SURPRISE TO ATTORNEYS.
Quite a surprise is the announcement made by Solicitor Callison, of Lexington, of his having received from A. B. Martin, counsel for S. J. Kirby the man who planned and confessed to the murder of William Brazell, the Columbia taxi driver, for whose murder Kirby and C. O. Fox and Jesse Gappins were condemned to die. The appeal of Kirby, like that of Gappins, automatically stays the execution, so that of the trio only Fox will die in the electric chair, October 21, the date of execution set by the Lexington court last month.

Taste is a matter of tobacco quality

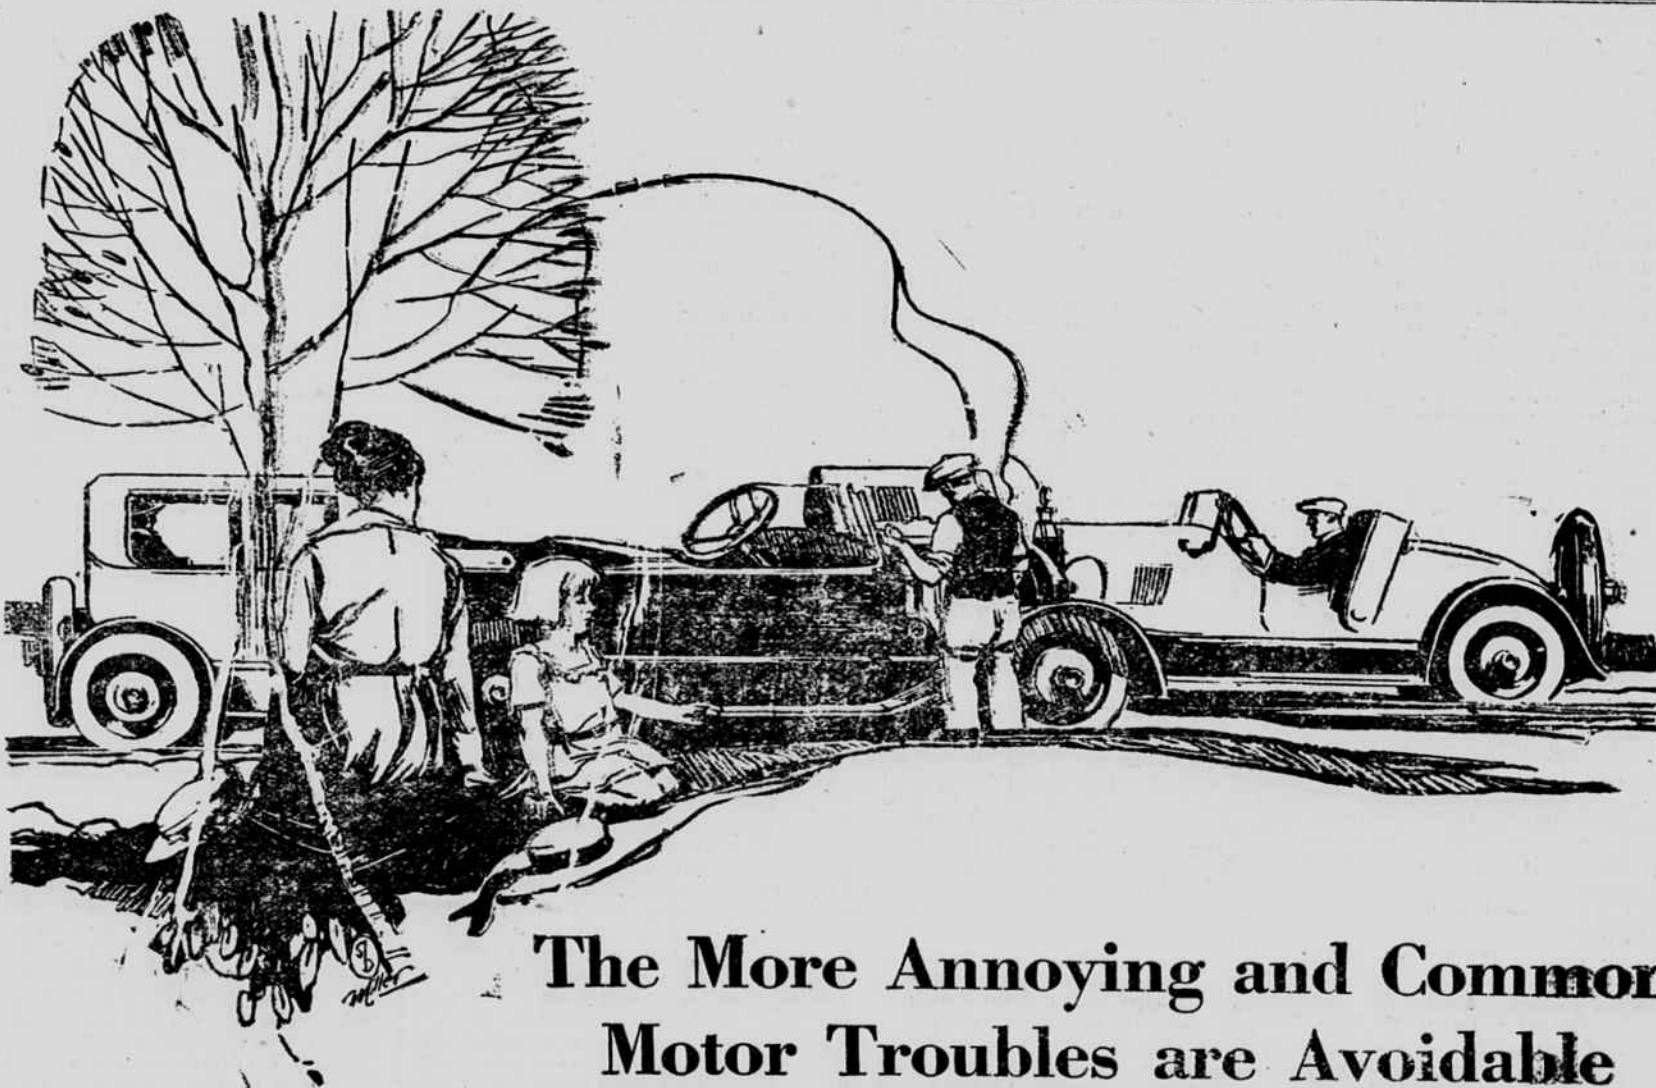

We state it as our honest belief that the tobaccos used in Chesterfield are of finer quality (and hence of better taste) than in any other cigarette at the price.

The More Annoying and Common Motor Troubles are Avoidable

If your motor overheats frequently, misses, gives off vile-smelling exhaust fumes, requires frequent carburetor adjustments, carbonizes quickly at valve seats and spark plugs, it is probable that impure gasoline is the cause.

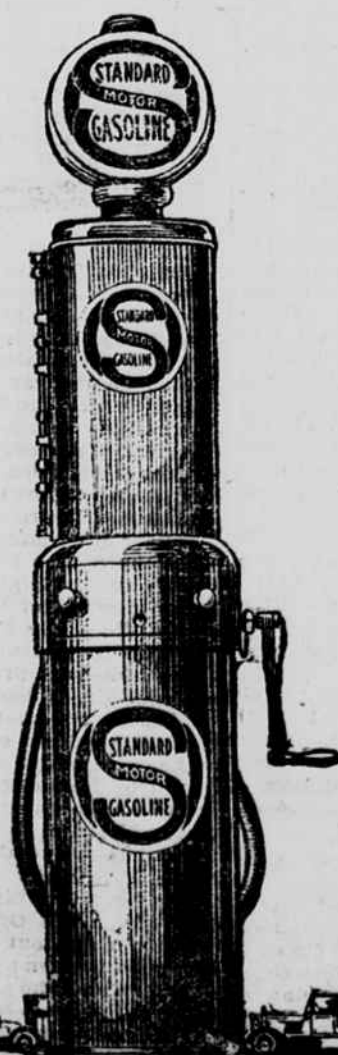

Have you ever really considered the reason for using a certain type of gasoline in your motor—or do you simply go to a dealer and ask for "Gas"?

The improved "Standard" Motor Gasoline has certain definite advantages that make it the superior of any other. These improvements were made possible principally by the long experience of our refining experts and our access to practically every needed source and grade of crude petroleum.

It is for these reasons that we are able to produce consistently a well-balanced gasoline—gasoline that is not lacking in any essential factor. It insures a maximum of motor efficiency, cleanliness of combustion, smooth, strong pulling power and long mileage, because it is the well-balanced, all-round fuel.

"Standard" Motor Gasoline is the best you can buy—and it costs no more. Now obtainable wherever you motor.
